Guide to the program

We're here for you

You can receive support from the moment you contact us, until you are fully settled back into the community.

That's because you can access our services before, during and after your stay.

Before, you can see a counsellor in the community and get immediate support. As Logan House is part of Lives Lived Well, you can access any of the Lives Lived Well services prior to coming to stay with us. We will also help you prepare to enter residential treatment.

After, we can offer you transitional accommodation and ongoing support. We can also help link you with other services that you may need, such as education, childcare, employment.

Our residential program

The program is delivered over six-week cycles, with the flexibility to be extended up to three months depending on your individual recovery.

We know entering residential treatment is a big step. From day one, we will aim to make you feel welcome and understood, as we get to know you and your needs.

To begin with, you will be introduced to a treatment facilitator who will work with you to tailor a range of supports to match your needs.

You will receive one-to-one counselling in which you can set goals, ask questions and guide your treatment. We bring empathy and collaboration to our approach, believing you are the ultimate decision-maker in your future.

We also take a "community" approach to treatment, upholding the values of integrity, trust, leadership and accountability.

You will be encouraged to participate in community living and take on daily tasks and responsibilities. Here you can learn life skills, build confidence and gain insight into how you relate to others... always in a supportive environment.

As you move through the program, you will meet regularly with your treatment facilitator to review and adapt your treatment over time.
